Dear Congressman Gallo:

Sorry for the delay in responding to your January 22 letter inviting me to participate in your fundraiser. I have always appreciated your loyal support, and I would like to help out with your event.

Due to the very demanding obligations on my time at the White House, I believe it is unlikely, unfortunately, that I will be able to attend. Nonetheless, I would be honored to have my name listed on your invitation as an honorary sponsor of the event. I am delighted to be associated with your campaign, and I hope that this will be of some benefit to you.

Dear Mr. Sugahara:

I'm sorry for the delay in responding to your December 28 letter. I appreciate your continued concern and valuable insights about the U.S.-Japan relationship. Fortunately, the last few weeks have been a period of relative calm and stability in the financial markets, especially the foreign exchange markets. I say "relative" stability because the residual volatility is still troublesome.

We have obviously explored various options for continuing cooperation among our allies and trading partners. I will certainly keep your proposal in mind as we advance our mutual interests throughout this year. The Prime Minister's visit to Washington helped reinforce and renew the constructive alliance that exists between our countries.

Dear Jim:

Thank you for your letter recommending Dr. Michael G. Dana for the position of Director of the Office of Substance Abuse Protection at the Department of Health and Human Services.

Unfortunately, it took quite some time to follow through on your recommendation since this position was not to become vacant until the beginning of 1988. Since then, however, Secretary Bowen has decided to fill this position from the ranks of the Civil Service.

As you may be aware, Title V of the U.S. Code prohibits the President and Members of the Executive Office of the President from using political influence to obtain career placement of candidates. We did, however, advise Dr. Dana of the steps necessary for him to compete for this position.

In addition, Dr. Dana was interviewed on February 22 in the Office of Presidential Personnel in order to explore other career options available to him at this time.

Again, thank you for bringing your strong recommendation of Dr. Dana to my attention.
